

Iglesias, Sardinia, Italy, 03/10/2016
Candidature for traineeship

Dear TDM 2000 Malta,

I am a young Italian graduated in Geological Sciences and I am very interested to do a traineeship to your company in Malta.

Having graduated in June I would like to challenge myself doing abroad experiences for different reasons. I would like to improve my English level to have a greater command of this language to work in foreign countries in my specialistic field of study in future. Moreover, my old experiences and my university career have made very sensible to different issues of your interest. When I was young I lived in Ethiopia for 4 years and I knew the meaning of poverty, racism and illness. I am very interested in topics such as youth unemployment, gender equality, racism and difference between social classes. In addition, I graduated in geology specializing in high- and low-enthalpy geothermal energy as renewable source to reduce air pollution and CO<sub>2</sub> level that increase global warming. I also followed an exam on Global changes in history of our planet, with particular importance to increase of temperature in last 150 years, because of man.

I am a sociable guy and I work hard in everything I do. I like talking to people, and doing something to search improving people welfare.

I would really like doing a traineeship in your company for the reasons that I have already given in this letter. I believe that I can do something more effective with your company than alone. So I ask you to take in consideration my candidature as a Trainee. If you are interested, you can find more details in my CV.

Best Regards,